PERSONALITIES.

In the year 1889 Andrew Carnegie gave away $5,155,000.

O. H. Ingham of Lacrosse, Wis., has given $15,000 toward the building of a new school of science for Ripon (Wis.) college.

Both the daughters of Senator John of Illinois, Miss Ethel, aged 24, and Miss Ruth, aged 21, are students in a Washington law school.

General J. C. Bates, one of the new major generals, is one of the few officers who speak a Philippine dialect fluently. He is said to be a master of two.

Miss Marie Correll has been elected president of the Walsall Literary Institute. Among the former presidents are Sir John Lubbock, Sir Robert Ball and other well known literary and scientific men.

Neither of the three British soldiers who have won peerages on the battlefield has a son. Lord Roberts has just lost his heir. Lord Kitchener is unmarried and Lord Wolseley's only child is a daughter.

In his "Recollections," just published, E. L. Godkin states that in his early days he was a careful student of William H. Seward's speeches for instruction in politics and the art of a persuasive style.

When a young man, the late R. B.
Brigham of Boston sometimes attended the theaters, the Boston Advertiser relates, but always bought a seat well up in the gallery because he felt that he could not afford a better one. And now he leaves $5,000,000 to charity.

Representative Gale of Owenton, Ky., was once a sheriff. It is the only public office he ever held before being elected to congress. He comes from the same town as the late Representative Settle, which fact is said to have been quite a factor in securing for him the
